

LUCAS DRINKS TABLE

The Treillage rattan collection celebrates the ancient art of wickerwork, which has been practiced for thousands of years. Ancient Egyptians made chairs of natural rush, while craftspeople in China and India worked with cane; medieval Europeans often utilized willow, and later mimicked the caning techniques of China. Later, the Arts & Crafts movement celebrated the handmade qualities of these furniture traditions, from which time wickerwork has remained a casual and stylish addition to any interior. Our collection uses the natural fibers of the rattan palm.

A fanciful, capacious drinks table, the Lucas has a blitheful spirit, with spherical feet echoed in the smaller spheres which bifurcate its legs. Braiding around the top and lower shelf make this a cousin of our Kenan table, and recalls the work of late 19th and early 20th century American wicker furniture makers.
